MUTINY IN AN ARMY

General Randall Dismisses Two of His Captains at Valparaiso,

And About 100 Soldiers Rebel and Join the Outcasts -- A Race to Westville -Seceders Capture Provisions.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VALPARAISO, Ind., May 7. - Randall's army was up bright and early this morning in anticipation of the twelve-mile march to Westville. The trouble which has been brewing for several days culminated this morning, when General Randall formed his army into a hollow square preparatory to his usual morning speech before marching. To the surprise of all, his talk was wholly upon discipline, and, to wind up, he dismissed Captains Sullivan and McKane, This order was greeted with murmurs of dissent throughout the army, and when the order to march was given a cry arose to stand by Sullivan. The main body marched toward the gate, and eighty-six men rallied round Captain Sullivan. The latter then made a rush for the colors, and Succeeded in securing three company flags. Caking a flank movement, the seceders entered the road ahead of Randall's men, and the race for Westville began. Each army was anxious to arrive there first and secure the provisions which were awaiting them. The armies were accompanied by a posse of deputy sheriffs, who, fearing trouble, acted as escort to the county line, where they were met by Sheriff Henry and twenty-eight armed deputies from LaPorte. Just west of Westville a halt was made by the advance army and an election of officers was held, Captain Sullivan being elected general. Here they were passed by the Randali army, which pushed on through Westville four miles, where a halt was made in the woods for the night. General Fullivan stopped his army in Westville long enough to secure the provisions, and then, pressed on to the same woods, where camp was pitched within one hundred yards of Randall's place. Each army threw out pickets, which were reinforced by the deputy sheriffs, to make sure that the two armies do not get together during the night. Sheriff Henry made a division of the army supplies satisfactory to both sides. The armies will make LaPorte tomorrow night, where they will go into camp. Randall's army to-night numbers 312 and Sullivan's 104. Nearly one hundred of the original army has deserted since Saturday night.

APPEAL FOR AID.

Labor Leaders Ask Assistance for Kelly-Barges Nearly Ready.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 7 .- Up to to-night 118 of the 150 barges for the California industrial army had been completed. Kelly has been compelled to draw nearly $500 from his army chest to help pay for the lumber. The provisions have been falling low, and to-day an appeal for help was sent out signed by J. R. Sovereign, general master workman of the Knights of Labor; Eugene Debs, president of the American Railway Union; L. P. Jones, president of the State Federation of Labor, and others. The appeal is for organized labor all over the country to help Kelly's army. It says: "General Kelly's army is largely composed of members of organized labor. They are engaged in a crusade calculated to beneat labor in various ways, and especially in an educational way. The army is sadly in need of material support. Every effort is being put forth by a combination of corporations to impede the course of its march, and, if possible, annihilate the army as a body of unemployed workingmen. Without committing itself to any particular theory or legislative policy, now is certainly one of the times when organized labor can further its cause and the interests of labor in general by doing a single act of charity. We therefore appeal to you in this emergency to contribute something toward helping Kelly feed his men. We trust that every trades or labor organization in the country will contribute at least $1 each and that unorganized labor will also do its full part. Remit to J. R. Sovereign, master workman K. of L., Des Moines, Ia."

MASSILLON, May 7 .- The prospect of arrest on the charge of abduction awaits Charged With Abduction.

Messrs, Coxey and Browne when Judge Miller, of Washington, is done with them. This trouble is in consequence of the appearance of the "Angel of Peace" in Coxey's May day parade. The "angel" was Miss Mamie Coxey, who is still in Washington, and who got there without her mother's knowledge or consent. The mother, Mrs. Carolina Coxey, is the divorced wife of the general, and secured her decree on the ground of excessive cruelty, and was made legal custodian of the girl. Young Jesse Coxey was sent from Rockville, Md., succeeded in getting his sisrun away with After their departure a note was found in Mamie's room by Carl Browne, in which that inspired gentleman says: There can be no harm in your visiting Washington accompanied by your brother."
Mrs. Coxey announces her intention of having Browne and her husband arrested the moment they plant foot in Ohio, and she may carry the war into the District of Co-

No Food for Galvinites.

M'KEESPORT, Pa., May 7 .- Galvin's army is here, but the expected ovation did not materialize. No food has been contributed here and no money except the collection taken at a mass meeting to-night. Galvin announces that the march will be resumed to-morrow at noon, probably on foot, following Coxey's route through Elizabeth. It is reported, however, that the army will attempt to capture a train on the Baltimore & Ohio.

Divided Into Small Bands. PORTLAND, Ore., May 7 .- The Portland contingent of the industrial army, being unable to proceed to Washington in a body, has adopted the expedient of traveling in small bands. Two divisions of fifty each have arready boarded Union Pacific freight trains and are traveling eastward. Taey are now camped at The Dalles and are being fed by the residents of that place.

Work for Utah Industrials. SALT LAKE, U. T., May 7 .- W. H. Remington, who returned from Pocatello last night, said he was authorized to state that Kilpatrick and Collins, the railroad contractors at Beatrice, Neb., will furnish employment for every member of Coxey's army camped near here. The men, who number over four hundred, will be paid $1.50 per day.

Commonwealers Side-Tracked. TACOMA, Wash., May 7 .- The commonwealers put a torpedo on the Northern Pacific track a mile and a half east of Easton late last evening and stopped the east-bound freight train. Over one hundred of them boarded it. The engineer backed the train into Easton and sidetracked it.

THE SINS OF HUSBANDS.

A Matrimonial Congress to Consider Them Solemnly Proposed.

New York Evening Sun. We are afraid that the circular which has been sent out by the Society for the Education and Reform of Husbands is a solemn jest. The air of gravity about the document should render those to whom it is tudes are skillfully used to cover up insidious untruths. For instance, nobody will deny that "when all has been said the household is the woman's kingdom. Her interests overwhelmingly lie therein, and its upbuilding and improvement are nearest and dearest to her." But then who shall be found to reasonably assent to the next proposition, "within this sovereignty no disturbing influence is possible save the husband's?" That is not what the divorce court, the modern drama, the modern novcourt, the modern drama, the modern novel and common experience teach us.

Among the venial sins of husbands are placed together "uxoriousness" and "neglectfulness." We hardly think that the first is considered such by the average woman. It is true that cynical philosophical phi cal men of the world have advised men who would be successful with the other sex to "be a little negligent." But this counsel is addressed to the bachelor in love and not to the husband. That peculiar type of woman, exceptional at the best, who longs "to live her own life," would probably look on the uxorious husband as nuisance, but she does not count when this broad question is under consideration. As this is an age of congresses, of course it is proposed, following the baneful example of Chicago, to hold a "parliament of matrimony." Papers are to be read on the venial and criminal sins of husbands and the various agencies by which they may be conquered and punished. They will

Seven Austrian Tourists Saved from Death in a Cavern,

Where They Had Been Imprisoned Since April 28-Four Workmen Killed and 100 Wounded During a Riot.

GRATZ, Austria, May 7.-A diver, at 10:30 this morning, succeeded in reaching the party of tourists who have been imprisoned in the stalactite cavern at Souraich since Saturday, April 28, owing to a sudden rise in the water and the fact that the passage into the cave became blocked with timber and bowlders. The diver found all seven of the tourists alive. It was believed at first that eight people were imprisoned.

The engineers had a very difficult task to use dynamite in order to clear away the obstructions which prevented the entrance of a diver into the cave. The tourists were located by diver Fischer. They must have taken a considerable supply of provisions with them when they went into the cavern over a week ago, as they still had, according to the diver, a little bread and cheese left, and they had some candles burning. Six of the tourists were able to emerge from the cave unaided, but the seventh was so exhausted that he required assistance. Emperor Francis Joseph was notified of the safety of the tourists and telegraphed his extreme satisfaction.

Peixoto's Message to Congress. LONDON, May 7 .- A dispatch to the Times from Rio Janeiro says: The President, in his message to Congress, refers to the fact that the rebels who took refuge on Portuguese vessels had landed in Argentine territory contrary to the agreement made by the refugees when they went aboard those vessels. Their presence there has given rise to fears that many of the rebels will again reach Rio Grande do Sul. On the subject of finances the message states that a deficit of 56,000 contos of reis is possible during the present year. The revenue is estimated at 201,000 contos of reis, against 233,000 in 1893. The message ends with a declaration that the country has been delivered from its enemies, and that the new administration is strong and victorious.

A Place for the Coxcyltes. LONDON, May 7.-A dispatch to the Times from Cape Town says: "A pioneer party sent out by the American Board of Foreign Missions is about to start for Mashonaland to examine the country's resources and its fitness for farming purposes If they make a favorable report a host of American farmers will follow them to Mahonaland. Many Americans have already settled in the Transvaal and the country north of that republic."

Joan of Arc Celebration. ORLEANS, France, May 7 .- A large number of American and English visitors have arrived here in order to take part in the Joan of Arc celebrations. Many wreaths were placed to-day upon the statue erected in honor of the Maid of Orleans. Tomorrow is the anniversary of the day upon which Joan of Arc succeeded, in 1429, in raising the siege of Orleans. The city had been besieged by the English under the Earl of Salisbury and Suffolk since Oct.

PHILLIPS WAS

Permitted Grand Rapids to Make 30 Hits and 26 Runs,

While the Indianapolis Players Had to Be Content with 11 Runs and as Many Hits-Rotten Umpiring Alleged.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 7 .- To-day

one thousand people saw Grand Rapids win a tiresome game. Phillips did not have speed, and the local hitters found him for thirty base hits, with a total of forty. Young Watkins pitched a fair game, striking out McTammany and Leidy twice. Umpire Mitchell favored the home team on every close play, and was so rank at times that the home crowd jeered him. In the sixth inning Wheelock opened for a single, Wright hit for two bases, George made a triple and Carrol kept up the pace and went them one better by knocking the ball over the fence. It went outside the post fifty feet inside the left field line and only counted for two bases. In the seventh hits by Graham, Leidy, Mills and Phillips, errors by Parker and Wright and a base on balls netted the visitors six runs. The game was loosely played, George's and Leidy's running catches being the only fielding features. The visitors expect to put in their new battery to-morrow. Score: Grand Rapids. A.B. R. H.

CONCERN FOR THE "MONK."

Two Incidents at the Police Station Following an Arrest.

Patrolman Kimpel patrols the district in the vicinity of South Meridian and Arizona streets. Yesterday afternoon, as he was strolling along, he heard a grind organ in the hands of two Italians, accompanied by a monkey, dispersing chunks of "Marching through Georgia," in a manner that would have turned patriots into rebels. He stood it as long as possible and, to insure himself the future good wishes of the citizens on his district, he arrested the Italians and Jocko for "giving exhibitions without license." The Italians were unable to speak English, and the names of Nicholas Sanday and Joseph Consan were given them on the slate at the police station. The Italians expressed a desire not to be separated from the monkey and Jocko again was in a cage. The organ was put into the safe keeping of Eugene Harris, Superintendent Powell's private secretary, and he took delight in the music.

This episode was hardly over when two Italians entered and expressed a desire to buy the banana cart of a countrym in who was arrested a few days ago for the want of a cart license. The superintendent told them the cart was still the property of their countryman and he could not sell it. "We-a don't carra who owns the cart. We wants to buy it," said they.
